One of the features of the production will be the appearance of the Hackett children, four in all, ranging between the ages of five and eleven. These little tots are finished actors and will have important roles. The staging, under the direction of Mr. Gunio Socola, the assistant director, will be faultless. The standing offer which the Apollo Brothers have, of $50 to any man, amateur or professional, who will duplicate their feat of lifting and carryin-from the stage, a bag of sand weighing over 300 pounds, has still to find a taker. Many have essayed the trick, but they have been obliged to acknewledge themselves beaten. This is not the only thing the Apollo Brothers do, for their act is full of good things in the way of gymnastics and heavy weight lifting, and they will be found almost perfect specimens of manhood. Their act will especially interest the athletic, and there is little sistant director, will be faultless. So far as possible the plece will be presented as originally with special scenic effects, costuming, etc.

"Her Own Way" is an absorbing many points of intense dramatic interest and revealing a plot that holds the closest attention of the audience throughout. When it is remembered that the production starred Maxine that the production starred Maxine Elliott for several seasons with remarkable success, it may be easily understood that "Her Own Way" will be of paramount interest as the opening production for the stock season at Poll's. A special bargain schedule of summer prices has been introduced, commencing with this afternoon's performance. A decidedly novel singing and danc-ing turn is given by the Luby Sisters, three as charming young women as have appeared on the local stage in a long time. They dress their act beautifully, which will be a treat for the ladies especially.

When it was decided that the theatre should be filled this summer with vaudeville and motion pictures, Manager Jackson at once settled upon the pian of giving nothing but the very best of this branch of the profession, and placed in operation the wires to provide such a result. As a consequence, he will offer this evening five of the best acts that any one could possibly wish, and three reels of the latest motion pictures, and all at an extremely low price, which will be within the reach of every purse. There will be three performances dally, one will be three performances daily, one in the afternoon, starting promptly at 2:15, and two in the evening, at 7:15 nd about 8:30, with but five minutes intermission. and Everybody is Happy.

As was anticipated, the week's engagement of "The Show Girl," Robert M. Sperry's twelfth annual production, which came to a close at Smith's theatre last Saturday evening, was the theatre last Saturday evening, was the greatest of all Mr. Sperry's successes. More people were entertained, and more money was received by "The Show Girl" than any other of Mr. Sperry's offerings, and all records fell flat long before the week was ended. The final accounting showed that "The Show Girl" had played, on the week, to a little over $200 more than did "The Girl From Stratford," which it was thought had reached the pinnacle of success, so far as monetary returns success, so far as monetary returns success, so far as monetary returns were concerned.

The success of "The Show Girl" was due to the excellent efforts and the hearty co-operation of everyone connected with the performances, all working together with a spirit which could scarcely fail of the desired results. The principals, the chorus and the orchestra all combined to make it one big hit, and that they succeeded is shown by the box office results, the best evidence in the world.

Miss Margaret McKinney, who was especially engaged for the production, entered into the performance with the especially engaged for the production, entered into the performance with the same spirit of willingness and good fellowship which the local talent displayed. Although a professional, she made herself one of them, and worked hand in glove with them. Much praise is due her for her excellent work, and she has the satisfaction of knowing that she made a host of warm friends during her stay here.

The utmost praise is due the efforts of the entire cast, from Mr. Sperry and Miss Steinbach, all through the list. Miss Steinmetz made a splendid hit with her beautiful singing, and it is safe to say that she will be heard from in more important ways before long. In more important ways before long. Charles E. Peck is also deserving o good words for the excellent manner in which his black face character was brought out. He made it one of the most prominent of the piece, and scored a complete success. Charles R. Jewett and Frederic Snifwill appreciate the offerings sufficiently to compensate the management for providing nothing but the best, and that as the days and weeks pass, the business will be commensurate with the high standing of the acts which will be presented. The idea of presenting such excellent performances at the exceptionally low price of admission has never been tried out here, and the patrons will find that everything has been done with a view to their pleasure and comfort during the heated weather. When light, pleasant amusement, at a most reasonable cost, will be most appreciated.

Burke, Touhey & Co., who will appreciated a characteristic success of "The Show Girl." Their work was commendable in every way, and they added immeasurably to the result as a whole. To the boys and girls of the chorus also there are words of praise due. Several of them had no previous stage experience, and all were selected from among our local talent. That they did so well is a credit to themselves and to the training they received.

The stagging costuming and lighting of the plece were above reproach. Mr. Sperry has never shown us anything so splendid in its results, and he despressed all the encouragement that could possibly be given. "The Show Girl" will go down in the history of local theatricals as one of the brightest of all Mr. Sperry's offerings, and
